7. Public Hearings

- 2692 Carpenter Rezoning
  - Stamper read an email in support of the rezoning from Kyle Lockwood and Jack Henry, who own neighboring property at 12177 Joseph Campau.
- Zoning Ordinance Updates
  - Mohammed Islam spoke in favor of allowing car lots on Joseph Campau. It would bring tax revenue to the city. People would come from other cities just to buy cars.
  - Rezaul Chowdhury spoke on the same subject. There is no better purpose for a specific lot on JC that used to be a car lot, so why not approve it as one now?

8. Old Business

- There was no old business.

9. New Business

- 2692 Carpenter Rezoning
  - Applicant shares their reasons for seeking a rezoning. Their property has a storefront and is contiguous to the CBD. They would like to have a ceramics studio, where they will sell studio space, classes, and materials. The closest ceramics store is at least 45 minutes away.
  - Stamper shares staff review.
  - Discussion on why this cannot be a SLU and needs to be a rezoning.
  - Stamper explains the use doesn't fit into residential SLU so it will need to be rezoned to allow for more uses.
  - Discussion on whether the whole street should be rezoned. Overall consensus that the master plan update should look at that.
  - If the proposed use was slightly different it might not need to be rezoned, but it does need the rezoning.
  - Gougherty has a potential conflict of interest because she is friends with the applicants.
  - Majewski says Gougherty has no commercial interest, it's a small town.
  - PC isn't concerned about a conflict of interest.
  - Collins motions to approve the rezoning request. Miah seconds. The motion passes unopposed.
- Zoning ordinance updates
  - Collins has one change to the language which prohibits open air uses A and B in the CBD. Change is made to the proposed ordinance updates.
  - Collins motions to approve the zoning ordinance updates with the language change. Miah seconds. The motion passes unopposed.
- Discussions on colors of buildings in commercial areas
  - Stamper shares some examples of ordinances from local cities. None allow bright colors.
  - Gougherty asks how colors can really be defined but likes the idea of discouraging fluorescent, black, metallic, etc.
  - Majewski says discouraged isn't strong enough language.
  - Commission likes bright colors because it adds colors. They like Bon Bon Bon.
  - Collins is considered about painting brick because it can't be undone.
  - Habitz suggests discretionary approval from the PC because it's hard to be specific.

- Miah says we don't want to be a cookie cutter community and also that selective enforcement on this is causing issues. We should keep a grip on distracting colors (i.e. fluorescent while driving). Not everyone can afford to resurface but can afford paint. Wonders how much jurisdiction the PC has.
- Gougherty suggests limiting the number of colors.
- Cote likes how Detroit's ordinance says you can't paint natural brick or stone unless it's been painted before. The Pc could review all facades.
- Miah suggests a work session, would support some vibrancy. He doesn't want to selectively enforce and suggests a timeline for conformance.
- Gougherty wants to stay away from fluorescent etc., maybe we ban painting certain materials.
- Collins says we need a full rewrite of CBD aesthetics. We need a guide to show people like we used to have.
- Habitz points out we need to address the architecturally compatible standard and Collins agrees.
- Collins says we'll eventually need a consultant for this.
- Next steps are for Stamper to send an email about putting together a work group and have someone find the old guidebook.
